Original Cause

The First Creation

The Unseen Role Of Denial

Part 1
- clip -

- I have always been, but realizing I had existence took a long time.
- there was a point in My progression when I became aware that I had existence.
- when I became aware of Myself, I already knew many things but I had to realize them.
- consciousness had to realize everything.
- consciousness had to feel or it could not know.
- Lost Will.
- the birth of fear, denial, guilt, and time (points of progression).
- we all have the ability to use our memory and return to our state of slumber and know how existence began with these original experiences that have affected us ever since.

- we have to feel Lost Will moving within.
- Lost will does not want to move.
- I could no longer sleep all the time.
- "I am, but what am I, who am I, where am I,
and what does it mean to be?"
