Of Denial

Part 3

- My plan to know Myself.
- Movement had awakened Me.
- Resented being awakened by this "thing" that I felt was not Me and I blamed it.
- Before I knew of My Will, feelings became Lost Will for I did want disturbance of the ecstasy of awareness.
- This "thing" responded to Me and gave Me strange feelings that I was not alone which I still have Lost Will manifestations of these feelings.
- Everything rippling through My consciousness either passed on through and was gone or it found a home in the magnetic essence which gave it the means to remain present.

- I did not know if it was only Me
I was getting to know.
- "The thing" is the Will.
- I had fear of "the thing" and "the thing"
had fear of Me.
- We did not feel comfortable with one another,
moving part still seemed more frightening than holding still.
- The first push of the Will let Me know that I could move also.
- The Will has a terror of falling and a terror of speed that is still present in Lost Will.
- Sight of the Will falling away from Me,
going into the darkness and not return.
- Emotional depression.
